NEW WOOD PUBLICATION AVAILABLE

For Immediate Release

ATLANTA, GA.....Georgia Tech has published an introduction to the use of wood energy in industry. Wood: An Alternate Energy Resource was compiled as part of a project funded by the Department of Energy through the Georgia Office of Energy Resources. The objective of the project was to demonstrate the feasibility of wood energy to nonforest products industries in Georgia. Topics covered in the booklet include wood supply in the Southeast, economics, handling and storage, and a brief description of various conversion technologies.

To obtain a copy, write to the Wood Energy Systems Branch, Georgia Institute of Technology, Engineering Experiment Station, Atlanta, Ga. 30332.
